Artist Bio:

I am an Iranian Canadian artist, born and raised in Tehran, Iran, and migrated to Canada in 2009. I earned a BFA with Honors in Visual Arts from York University in 2024, and diploma in Digital Arts from George Brown College in 2011. With years of experience in both digital and fine arts, my practice spans ceramics, sculpture, painting, and music. My work is deeply influenced by years of artistic practice and a personal journey shaped by cultural displacement. As a woman who has experienced migration, I aim to explore and express my diasporic identity through the socio-political dimensions of my journey. With a focus on thought-provoking installations and sculptures, I combine various mediums to create powerful visual narratives that speak to the collective memory of displacement.
