Lyss Sky is a contemporary multidisciplinary artist specializing in digital art and generative AI. Her core project and work, #DIVINEFEMININEGODDESS, blends timeless retro, anime, gaming, nature, and psychedelia into a mesmerizing display of vibrant color, geometric light, and divine feminine energy.

Living in the US as a transgender woman with an autoimmune disease and disability, her work emerges from deep in her soul where she alchemizes her pain and struggles into boundless creativity and rapturous joy, expressing the challenges and complexities of the human experience in the modern era. Her artistic vision continues to defy the status quo and serves as a testament to the power of unconditional love, hope, and dreams.

The #DIVINEFEMININEGODDESS collection, launched on the Ethereum blockchain in early 2025 and has since generated over 100,000 unique works of art and displayed in galleries and events including NFT.NYC 2025. Her work elevates and highlights the true beauty and limitless potential of AI art and continues to bring love and light into the world to empower woman and inspire others to fulfill their dreams.
