

Milaz has joined and supports the project "Art into Acres."

The nonprofit project Art into Acres was founded by artist Haley Mellin and aims to mobilize artists to support the protection of over 30 million hectares of primary forests.

Since April 20, 2026, Milaz has been part of the ARTISTS COMMIT - ARTISTS COMMIT

"As artists, we recognize that we are facing a climate emergency that intersects with racial, economic, labor, and other forms of structural injustice, and that requires immediate and collective action."

Now, artists can act.

Commit now! Quote the manifesto of those who join!

"Commit Now"

By adding your name to the "Committing to a Climate-Conscious Future" initiative, artists commit to:

Assessing their impact.

Assessing the climate impact of their activities and the practices that can become more climate-conscious.

Making their voices heard.

Voicing their voices to promote more climate-conscious practices when interacting with colleagues, suppliers, and customers, making these conversations the norm in the spaces we share.

Make yourself known.

Publish your name to let others know you share this commitment.
